tools & materials

You don't need anything fancy to get started. Simply choose supplies that you're comfortable with and that you'll enjoy using. Here are a few suggestions to kick off your drawing journey:

Black Pen or Marker Choose your favorite black pen or marker as your primary tool for creating the bold contour lines that Bobbie Goods is known for! Even though you might make mistakes at first, practicing with a dark pen can help you develop your own style and a precise hand the more you use it.

Paper Whether it's a notebook or sketchbook, choose a paper that you love and will take with you wherever you go. For the best results with markers, opt for thicker paper that won't allow the colors to bleed through.

All Your Favorite Colors Choose the medium you prefer, whether it be markers, colored pencils, or crayons, to bring your drawings to life with vibrant hues. It can help to pick your favorite colors and then shades in between to give your masterpieces more depth and pop!

drawing techniques

Don't worry if your hand isn't perfectly steady! Wiggly, imperfect lines add extra personality to your drawing. In fact, Bobbie never uses perfectly straight lines in her drawings!

This basket is pretty nice . . .

but this basket is one of a kind!

When drawing Bobbie Goods characters, think about how changing an outline to make a dog extra shaggy or silky smooth can give them a whole new look.

This puppy is sleek and shiny!

This puppy is perfectly puffy!
